

DOLANEY CONFIRMED GERMAN MAY ASK BY THE SENATE AS STAMPS' SUCCESSOR FIDELITY MAY ASK ESTABLISH FACTS

RESIGNATION OF FORMER MEMBER PRISON BOARD ACCEPTED BY GOVERNOR—AN EXECUTIVE SESSION CONSIDERING MATTER LASTS NEARLY 2 HOURS.

REDISTRICTING BILL KILLED

Agreed to in Free Conference, but Stirs Up Heated Fight in the House, Which Disapproves It 60 to 54. Wortham of Fort Worth Declares Is a Gerrymander.

LEGISLATURE ADJOURNS.

Austin, Tex., May 29.—The congressional redistricting bill, on second draft, was refused by the house after several votes failed to develop a quorum.

The legislature adjourned at 12:55 a. m.

Austin, Tex., May 28.—W. R. Dolaney of Williamson county was confirmed by the senate this afternoon as successor to W. O. Stamps, as member of the board of prison commissioners, the vote being 21 to 2 with several senators not voting. Stamps challenged the governor to send in a nomination for his place with the promise he would resign if the nominee was confirmed. The governor has accepted Stamps' resignation, effective July 1.

The executive session lasted nearly two hours, much of the time being taken up with reading correspondence which the senate had declined to hear in open session. A large number of notices also were approved.

The congressional reapportionment bill was agreed to in free conference this morning and when submitted to the senate it was adopted by unanimous vote. The bill was then sent to the house. There it stirred up one of the warmest rows witnessed in the lower body since its organization.

House Disapproves. The house disapproved of the bill by 60 to 54 to reject the free conference report and direct the conferees to try to get together again.

Louis Wortham of Fort Worth led the fight against the report characterizing it as a gerrymander. Dayton of Cooke defended the bill, saying that as a member of the committee he had consented to more and suffered more than any one else in reaching the agreement, as he had consented to the cutting-up of his district that others who had not yielded might be satisfied. He said that the people of Texas wanted redistricting more than they wanted to gratify the ambitions of certain individuals who want to go to congress. Burges moved to reject the report and recommit the bill to free conference.

Speaker Woods, yielding the gavel to Tillotson, took the floor and attacked the bill. He denied he was personally interested in the shape of the bill, but would be recreant to his trust if he did not protest. He called it the worst gerrymander ever he had seen; that it did not come from the bill defeated in the Thirty-third legislature and it is the duty of the house to send it back.

Rowell Tells Committee's Troubles. Rowell as chairman of the free conference committee, told the troubles of the committee and said if the house does not pass this bill it will be six years, or more, before another bill will be agreed to. Wortham again made an arraignment of the bill as a gerrymander, and of the members for their selfish interest in trying to force such a bill upon the house.

Hill of Walker county defended the bill and said he was not going to be deterred by the claim of gerrymandering from supporting it and urging his colleagues to support it.

Williams of McLennan county followed with an allegation that the passage of the bill will assure two republican congressmen from Texas and in this hour of need to maintain democratic supremacy he did not want to see Texas help the republicans to gain the ascendancy.

The vote resulted in 60 to 54 that the bill be rejected and sent back for further action in free conference. This was taken as its death warrant.

Amend Prison Probe Resolution. In an amendment to the prison investigation resolution by Nugent, which was adopted by the senate, the powers of the committee were amplified, an auditor was added and power was given to enforce attendance of witnesses and employ all needed help.

HALT CONSIDERATION MERITS OF ALLEGED VIOLATIONS OF AMERICAN RIGHTS BY TORPEDOING U. S. VESSEL AND OTHER WITH AMERICAN CITIZENS.

TARDINESS CAUSES DISCUSSION

Germany Has Allowed Two Weeks to Elapse Without Reply to President Wilson's Communication—Ambassador Bernstorff Advises His Government of Impatience.

Washington, May 28.—The passing of two weeks with no reply from the German government to the note from the United States concerning violations of American rights in the war zone has caused widespread speculation in official and diplomatic quarters.

Two circumstances contributed to the development today of further tension in an already delicate situation—the insistence of reports from London that the American steamer Nebraska was torpedoed instead of mined and published intimations that Germany would send a series of notes in answer to the American communication delaying discussion of the merits of the question until there was an agreement on facts.

While high officials scrupulously avoided comment, it was evident they were loath to believe the German government had underestimated the intense feeling of the American people on the Lusitania disaster with the loss of more than 100 American lives or would seek to delay the reparation demanded by the United States.

Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, confirmed the London reports that he had sent wireless messages to the German foreign office declaring the American press was becoming impatient over the delay in sending the German reply and that the Nebraska incident had aggravated the situation. It was explained that the ambassador was not expressing his own opinion, but was merely keeping his government informed as usual.

No Outline Received.

Berlin press dispatches saying Ambassador Gerard had probably sent in advance the main points to be contained in the German reply were shown to Secretary Bryan tonight. He said that while the ambassador had sent his own conjectures, nothing that could be called an outline had been received.

The general trend of comment in official and diplomatic quarters was that if the preliminary note from Germany proposed an agreement on the facts of various cases mentioned in the American note, there would follow immediately a counter proposal from President Wilson for a suspension of submarine warfare which might endanger American lives or vessels.

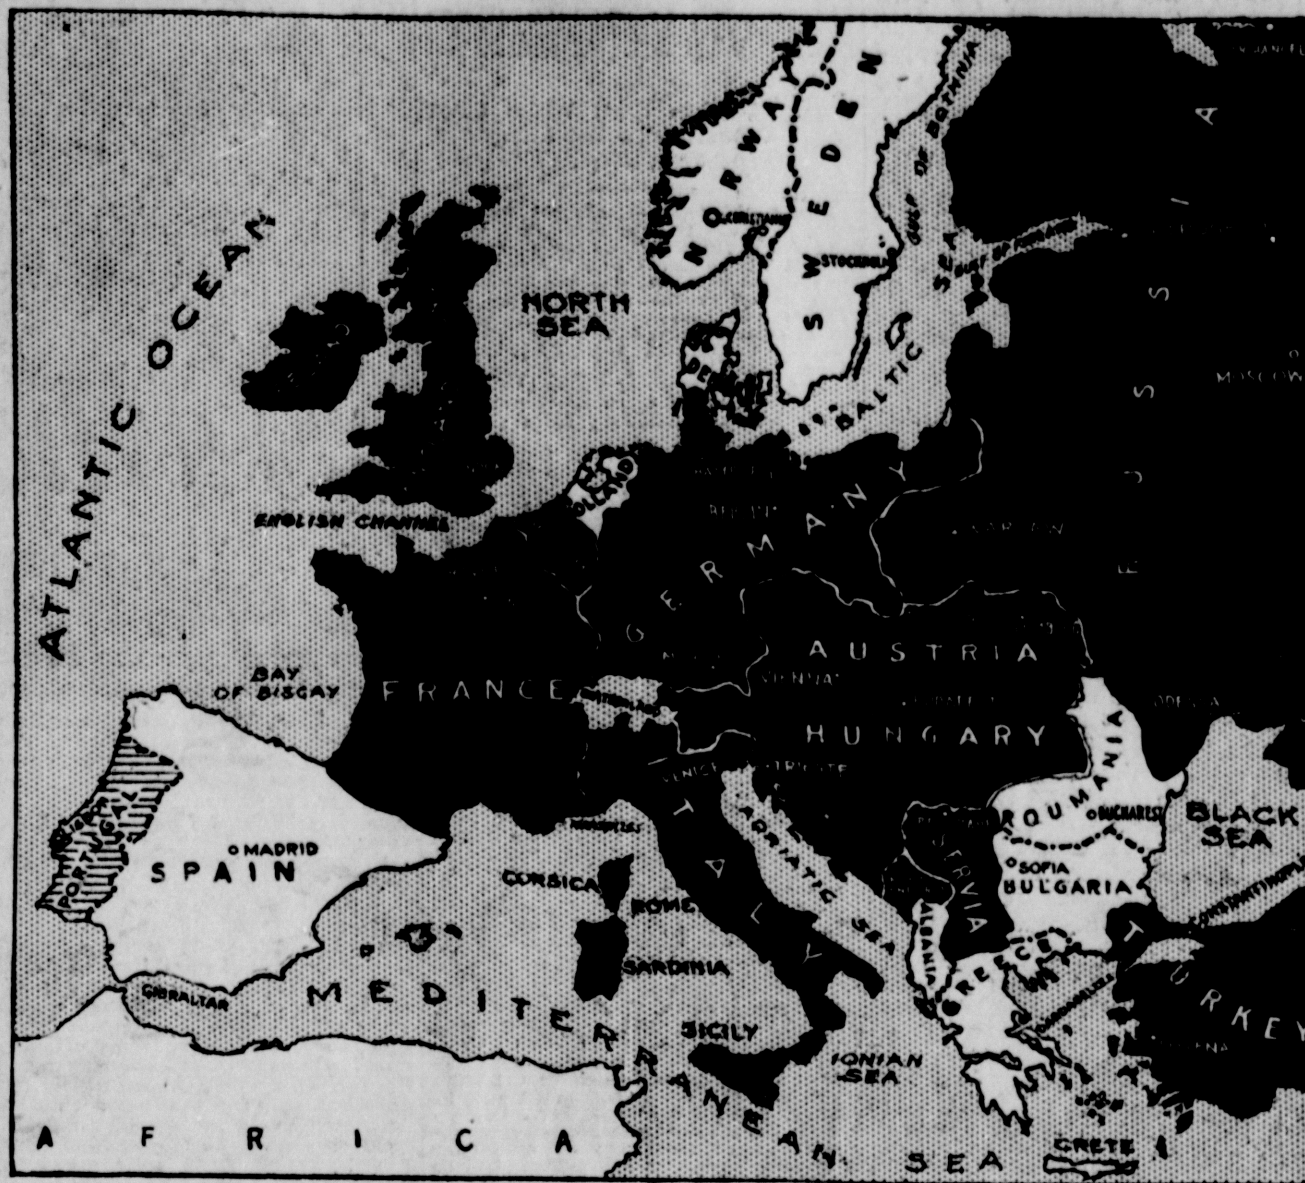

The German government, according to published reports, intends to inquire first whether the Lusitania was armed or unarmed and whether she carried munitions of war. The position of the United States government is that the Lusitania sailed unarmed from an American port and did not resist capture. Whether the vessel carried contraband of any character did not, in the American view, deprive her of the right to be given an opportunity to transfer her cargo and pass safely to a place of safety before being destroyed.

British Liner Was Unarmed.

Officials pointed out, moreover, that the British liner by careful investigation before sailing was found to be unarmed and that there was no denial of the fact that she carried munitions of war. This was shown on her manifest, published the day of sailing. Collector Malone of the port of New York, who was in Washington tonight for a conference with President Wilson on what were described as personal matters, explained that his assistants had made a thorough investigation of the Lusitania and that she had no guns aboard either mounted or dismounted.

Officials still were non-committal today about the explosion aboard the American steamer Nebraska. Ambassador Gerard called the expected affidavits from the captain and crew of the Nebraska, but did not reveal their nature. As yet the Washington government does not know positively whether a mine or torpedo caused the explosion.

War's Black Cloud Practically Hangs Over Europe

With the entrance of Italy into the war, the black cloud which has now so extended that only the least important parts are not covered by it. They are the least in population as well as in area. They are Spain, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Holland, Switzerland, Roumania, Bulgaria, Greece and Albania, which is in a turmoil. Roumania, Norway, Sweden and Denmark have been repeatedly attacked in violation of international law, as stated by President Wilson. So they have constant incentive to join. In fact, Spain is the single nation which seems to be without trouble. Portugal is just now in the throes of a revolution. The population of the allied nations at war is as follows: Great Britain 45,000,000; France 40,000,000; Russia 141,000,000; Italy 35,000,000; Belgium 8,000,000; Serbia 4,500,000; Montenegro 500,000; total, 273,500,000. The population of the three nations in the Germanic alliance are: Germany 65,000,000; Austria-Hungary 50,000,000; Turkey (Europe and Asia) 21,000,000; total 136,000,000. Grand total at war 409,500,000. Population of Europe 453,000,000. People not in the war, 45,500,000. Portugal in revolution, 6,000,000. People at peace 37,500,000.

ITALY CRITICISED IN GERMAN REICHSTAG

DR. VON BETHMANN-HOLWEG SAYS MOB SPIRIT RULED.

People Didn't Know the Extent of Concessions Offered by Austria.

Berlin, May 28, via London, May 29, 12:08 a. m.—The session of the reichstag held this afternoon related purely to the Italian situation, the only event of the sitting being the speech of Dr. Von Bethmann-Holweg, the imperial chancellor, who dealt with Italy's declaration of war against Austria. After the speech of the chancellor the reichstag as a mark of complete assent in his views adjourned until tomorrow.

Dr. Von Bethmann-Holweg's remarks were devoted to explaining and adversely criticizing the motives behind the Italian declaration of war which he imputed to a combination of mob dictation, the faith on the part of the cabinet and Premier Salandra and to a certain degree, the money of the allied powers.

The chancellor asserted that the greater part of the Italian and a majority of the Italian parliament had not wanted war and were kept in ignorance of the extent of the concessions which Austria-Hungary was willing to make for the sake of peace. The Salandra cabinet, he said, long before the triple alliance had ceased to exist, allied itself with the triple entente and unchained the mob spirit and intimidated the advocates of peace.

"Italy," said the chancellor, "has now inscribed in the book of the world's history in letters of blood which will never fade, her violation of faith. Nobody threatened Italy—neither Austria-Hungary nor Germany. Whether the triple entente was content with blandishments alone, history will show later.

"Without a drop of blood flowing or the life of a single Italian being endangered, Italy could have secured the long list of concessions which I recently read to the house—territory in Tyrol and on the Isonzo as far as Italian speech is heard, satisfaction of her national aspirations in Trieste, a free hand in Albania and the valuable port of Avlona."

Plead Guilty to Defrauding the U. S.

New York, May 28.—Pleas of guilty were entered in the federal court today by Franz Rosenberg, Sigmund Karmann and Albert B. Newman to indictments charging that they had defrauded the United States by filing false manifests at the customs house in connection with an alleged effort to get contraband of war to belligerents by means of the express company.

Joe Bailey Will Bring Up Caminetti Case at Washington

Washington, May 28.—The supreme court was petitioned today to review the conviction in the California federal court of J. Drew Caminetti, son of A. Caminetti, commissioner general of immigration on charge of violating the white slave law. Former Senator Bailey of Texas will bring the case up Tuesday and a decision is expected on June 14. A similar application may be made on the latter date on behalf of Maury I. Diggs.

British Steamer Spennymoor Sunk by German Submarine

Falmouth, May 28.—The new British steamer Spennymoor has been sunk by a German submarine off Start Point, Orkney Islands.

The captain and five men of the crew of the steamer were drowned by the capsizing of the vessel, which also was launched, and the engineer was badly injured by the bursting of a shell in the engine room.

Twenty-three survivors of the disaster have landed here.

Federal Court Will Pass on Arkansas 2 Cent Railroad Rate

St. Paul, Minn., May 28.—Judges Hook, Carland and Triebel, sitting in federal court, today took under advisement the applications of several railroads operating in Arkansas for injunctions restraining the railroad commission of that state from enforcing the 2-cent passenger rate law and from putting into effect a new general freight tariff.

A decision in the case is expected tomorrow.

Affidavits introduced by attorneys for various railroads were intended to show that the proposed new freight rate would be confiscatory.

Austrian-Italian LOSSES TO PRESENT

Believed Austrian Destroyer Helgoland Suffered Severely in Action.

Rome, via Paris, May 28.—A communication issued today by the Italian ministry of marine gives the following details of naval losses by Austria and Italy up to the present:

"On May 24, the Austrian torpedo boat S-20, having approached the canal at Porto Corsini, was so seriously damaged by the fire from our masked batteries that she was forced to be abandoned. The torpedo boat destroyed by S-20, which was operating with S-26, also was damaged, suffering the loss of many of her crew. She called the scout ship Novara to her assistance, which also was struck several times and also had several of her crew killed, including an officer.

"The destroyed Ozepe also suffered severe losses due to the arrival of our naval squadron during the action commenced against the destroyers.

"The above news has been confirmed by enemy communications, intercepted by us. We believe, although confirmation has yet been received, the Austrian destroyer Helgoland suffered severely in the action against one of our ships. She was even damaged heavily and was conveyed from the zone of action by another destroyer.

"After the preceding brilliant action we regret exceedingly to announce the loss of our destroyer 'Turbine.' She was built in 1901 and was of approximately 330 tons. During the morning of May 24 while on a reconnaissance mission she sighted an enemy destroyer and gave chase. The chase lasted half an hour, when four other enemy war vessels appeared, including the cruiser Helgoland. The 'Turbine' immediately turned about to return to her naval base but was struck in her boilers, thus reducing her speed.

"She continued the battle for about half an hour, although fire had broken out aboard and there was a lack of munitions. Then the commander ordered the water intake valves opened, in order to avoid capture. The 'Turbine' commenced to sink, with all her men gathered at the stern, the enemy keeping up their fire all the while.

"The commander wounded, ordered his men to jump overboard. The Austrians launched small boats to save as many as possible. Meanwhile the squadron to which the 'Turbine' belonged was seen approaching and the enemy left the small boats in the water and departed.

CONDITIONS IN MEXICO ARE INTOLERABLE SAYS WILSON

Will Serve Notice on All Warring Factions That Unless They Themselves Compose Situation Other Means May Be Employed—U. S. Will Not Recognize Either Party.

WILL BE NO "IMMEDIATE" INTERVENTION

Urges Contributions From This Country to Relieve Suffering—Will Place Responsibility for Present State Squarely Upon Military Elements of the Republic. Civilians Shall Not Be Starved.

Washington, May 28.—President Wilson has decided to serve notice on all the warring factions in Mexico that conditions in that country have become intolerable and that unless they themselves compose the situation soon, some other means may have to be employed.

The first intimation of the president's determination to take this step came today in his appeal issued as head of the American Red Cross setting forth that, "due to several years of internal disturbances, the unfortunate people of many parts of Mexico have been reduced to the verge of starvation, and urging contributions to relieve them."

Later the white house gave out the following:

"When the president's appeal for aid of the Mexicans was issued it was also stated at the executive offices that a statement from the president on the present situation in Mexico might be expected within the next few days."

To Issue After Cabinet Meeting. High officials referred to the president's forthcoming pronouncement as not meaning immediate intervention and they emphasized the word, "immediate." The impression in executive quarters was that one purpose would be to place responsibility for the present state of affairs squarely upon the military elements in the southern republic which have overrun the country and appropriated its food supply or prevented the tilling of the soil. The president is said to be determined that the civilian population of the country shall not be starved to death.

Intervention Talk Revived.

Talk of intervention, which has been dormant ever since the European war diverted attention from the situation nearer home, was immediately revived by the white house statement. Many diplomats who interpreted the day's events as the forerunner of a new policy thought intervention was an inevitable outcome of the situation and that the United States was saving the way for such action by notifying the world of its purpose to take the step for the sake of humanity. They pointed out that a similar utterance had preceded intervention in Cuba in 1898.

For the present, it is understood, the notification to all the Mexican factions of the intolerable state of affairs and the desire of the American government for a betterment of conditions will be allowed to stand without explanation while the relief work of the American Red Cross is undertaken in earnest.

The belief was widespread in official and diplomatic circles tonight that an immediate effect of the forthcoming statement will be to give warning that relief supplies must not be appropriated by the military factions and that they must assist in feeding the starving population.

Will Insist on Open Traffic.

While the president's statement will not say specifically the alternative course in case it is not heeded, the general trend of comment tonight intimated that the United States government as a first step in such a contingency would insist on keeping the railroad between Vera Cruz and Mexico City open for the transportation of supplies and that even delivery of supplies to the people in other Mexican cities by government agencies.

The government's plans, it is said, will take several weeks to be worked out and they are not expected to lead to a decisive point while the delicate negotiations with Germany are in progress.

President Wilson stated Tuesday, after his conference with Duval West, his personal representative in Mexico, that he had decided on no change in the Mexican policy. The events of the last twenty-four hours—the seizure by Carranza authorities of large quantities of corn purchased by the international relief committee and the inability of the authorities at Vera Cruz and Mexico City to provide transportation for supplies to succor the ever-increasing bread line—brought about the determination to act.

Secretary Bryan announced that American consuls throughout Mexico had been instructed to keep the state department closely advised as to the suffering of the people and famine conditions. In the meantime the department is co-operating with the Red Cross in the arrangements for relief.

"It takes time," said a Bryan, "to collect goods to relieve such a situation and while the government is making arrangements for getting the goods there it is losing time in arranging the collection of the goods."

Refers to Changes of Control.

Mr. Bryan referred to the frequent changes in the control of various cities and remarked that recently there had been intimations that Mexico City would change hands again.

Officials of the state department here, had been exerting pressure for the relief of conditions in Mexico. It was pointed out, however, that Duval West after spending three months making an investigation of conditions in Mexico, was understood to have brought back information tending to show that none of the leaders had sufficient capacity to dominate the situation and to have suggested that the United States must compel a settlement.

The idea that by relieving distressed conditions among the populace and influence of the United States government upon the warring factions would increase, is said to have been one of Mr. West's arguments. His report was of a decidedly pessimistic character concerning the economic as well as political conditions. He found that most of the crops were failures; that the land had not been tilled and that the population was diminishing to such an alarming degree that almost the entire population was threatened with starvation.

Moreover, he is said to have reported that the military factions were to be expected to bring immediate relief because of the scarcity of arms and ammunition brought about by the sale of large quantities to Europe by American manufacturers.

The great hope of the American government now, it is said, that its influence on the situation will be such as to bring about a coalition of the best elements of the military and government which may be recognized. The state department today gave out a summary of the negotiations with General Villa relative to the mines in the state of Durango to pay their employees in Mexican or American bullion under penalty of having their property confiscated.

The mines at a profit because of the necessity of transporting gold from the United States and the dangers of robbery and confiscation by military hands. General Villa has promised to furnish armed guards and furthermore has given assurance, it was stated, that he would not allow his troops to rob or confiscate property of foreigners he would have the necessary changes made.

Appeals for Contributions.

President Wilson, as head of the American Red Cross, today issued an appeal to the American people to contribute money for supplies of food for the relief for starving Mexicans. The appeal, addressed to the people, follows:

"The American people, with characteristic generosity and an impartial spirit of brotherhood with all nations, have contributed liberally for the relief of the appalling sufferings caused by the unprecedented war in Europe. There now has arisen a condition of equally great suffering and need close to our own borders. Due to several years of internal disturbances, the unfortunate people of many parts of Mexico have been reduced to the verge of starvation and unless assistance is rendered them many may die for lack of food.

"The American Red Cross is ready to undertake relief work for the benefit of the Mexican people. I appeal to you to contribute to this work."

SUMMARY OF WAR

The Austro-Germans and the Russians continue to wage sanguinary warfare in Galicia, with the Teutons seemingly pressing more closely toward the fortress of Przemyel, despite the strenuous efforts of the Muscovites to hold them back.

The Teutons are declared to have driven their lines so far in this direction that their forces are now only a short distance from Przemyel—six miles east of the San and fourteen miles northeast of the fortress.

Elsewhere in the Galician district stubborn combats are in progress with both sides claiming successes at various points and with the Russians admitting losses near Radymno and Gousskow.

Progress for the British troops toward La Bassée and gains for the French near Ecurie and in Alsace are reported by Paris. Along the remainder of the western front the Germans are either delivering furious counter attacks, which, it is declared, are being held, or engaging in artillery duels with the allies.

The Italians continue to report gains of Austrian terrain at various points near the Austro-Italian frontier, but to battle of any great importance has not yet been fought.

Both infantry and artillery engagements and bombardments of Turkish positions by allied warships are in progress in the region of the Dardanelles, but according to Constantinople the fire by the land forces is feeble.

Italy announces that Italian torpedo boats have sent an Austrian submarine to the bottom during an engagement. German submarines have added to their score of sunken vessels the Swedish bark M. Roosvall and the British steamer Spennymoor. Two men on the bark and the captain and five men of the steamer were lost in the disasters.

Berlin reports unofficially that Germany's note to the United States government in answer to the American protest against her submarine warfare will be delivered to the American ambassador Saturday and published by the Berlin newspapers Sunday.

Washington, May 28.—In line with his announced determination to develop the submarine arm of the navy and amend its present faults, Secretary of the Navy, Joseph D. East, today designated Capt. W. L. Grant, one of the highest ranking officers of his grade, to command the Atlantic submarine flotilla and exercise general supervision over that branch of the service.

Captain Grant, who now commands the battleship Texas, will assume his new duties next month with headquarters aboard the flotilla flagship. He will have as his assistants Commander Yates Stirling, now commanding the flotilla, and an expert on underwater craft, whose testimony most earnestly to our people, therefore, to contribute both money and supplies of food to mitigate the suffering and misery so close at hand. All contributions in money may be sent to the American Red Cross, Washington, or to its local treasurers. Those who are able to contribute corn, rice, beans or flour are requested to communicate with the American Red Cross headquarters, Washington, for instructions.

(Signed) "WOODROW WILSON."

The American Red Cross issued a statement today declaring that "conditions in Mexico are appalling" and that great numbers of unfortunate people were victims of long continued fighting, had been facing starvation for months and now had reached an acute stage when only food supplies can save them from death.

Red Cross Statement.

The conditions in Mexico are appalling. Great numbers of unfortunate people are victims of long continued fighting. They have been facing starvation for months and now have reached an acute stage when only food supplies can save them from death.

The Montezuma chamber of commerce has asked me to appeal to the American Red Cross for food for the starving people in Montezuma. The chamber of commerce has stood nobly by the people, but has reached its limit. The commanding general assembly, free from freight and free duties. The city is without food and the people will starve unless help comes quickly. If we can have help for three weeks until green corn and garbanzo beans come in, we will be able to survive. We must have corn, beans, rice and flour, and that it be sent at once. This is no ordinary case. Thousands are hungry and will starve without help. The city has already had terrible food riots before troops arrived. Please help Red Cross to help for three weeks until roasting ears are ready.

Carload Corn Sent.

"Already the American Red Cross has a carload of corn and one car of beans on the way from Laredo to Montezuma. Free freight and free duty have been arranged for and the military authorities guarantee safe conduct. The Red Cross cannot continue to send assistance without public contributions. In scores of Mexican towns the same terrible conditions exist.

Here we have in our western hemisphere people face to face with actual starvation. I appeal and the Red Cross sends its appeal with all the emphasis possible. Thousands of innocent women are in dire distress. We cannot let them starve to death. The Red Cross will place its own agent in Mexico and through the department in co-operation with the United States consuls there such supplies as may be purchased with the contributions or given in kind, will be distributed among the suffering non-combatants.

Arrangements will be made for warehouses at which donations of corn, beans, rice and flour can be collected to be forwarded at New York, Galveston and Laredo. Any further information may be had from American Red Cross headquarters, Washington, D. C."

Villa Makes Wheat Raids.

Douglas, Ariz., May 28.—To relieve the situation at Hermosillo and Guaymas, where bread riots recently have threatened the ascendancy of Josef Maytorena, Villa forces have been raiding available supplies of wheat, according to information reaching the border today. General Trujillo, a lieutenant of Maytorena, commands the raiders, who are said to be leaving not even enough wheat to supply seed.

The mill at Cumpas is being used to grind the wheat into coarse flour. As a result of the raids the state, it is stated, will be left without food for the population consisting of women, children and old men unable to bear arms, reduced to absolute starvation.

Colon Tobacco Man
Is Found Guilty

New York, May 28.—Jacob L. Salas, a tobacco merchant of Colon, indicted with John Burke, former manager of the Panama railroad's commissary department, and Ricardo Bermudez, another merchant, on the charge of conspiring to defraud the government in connection with tobacco contracts, was found guilty by a jury in federal court here today. He will be imprisoned in custody of customs inspectors until Wednesday next, when he probably will be sentenced.

Although indicted jointly, the court granted separate trials for the men. Burke became a witness for the government at the Salas trial and it is expected will escape prosecution. Major George W. Goethals, governor of the canal zone, was a witness.

The jury reached its verdict a half hour after Judge Hunt had delivered his charge.

Change of Venue in the Hart Austin Case

Houston, May 28.—Counsel for the state and defense in the case against Hart Austin, charged by indictment with complicity in the robbery of the Guaranty State bank and with assault to murder, have agreed to a change of venue to Houston county, of which Crockett is the county seat. A recent trial of Austin on the bank robbery charge resulted in a "hung jury" to reach a verdict.

John Bowman has pleaded guilty to robbery in this case and received ten years on the assault to murder charge.

Moyle Nolan, who is to be tried on the bank robbery charge, has been given three years on the assault to murder charge. All of these cases grow out of the same case.

Memorial Services at Gatesville. Gatesville, May 28.—The Confederate veteran camp at this place will hold memorial services at the Methodist church May 30, at 2:30 o'clock p. m., and repair to the cemeteries at 3:30 o'clock to decorate the graves. Rev. D. B. Bell, pastor of the Presbyterian church here, will preach the memorial sermon.

There are about seventy Confederate soldiers buried in the cemeteries here.

Italians Land on Island of Rhodes, Off
Coast of Asia Minor, While Cruiser
Bombarde Bedrum, on Gulf of Kos.
It is Believed This is the First Step to a Landing.

London, May 28.—The success of the German submarines in their attacks on the British fleet supporting the army on the Gallipoli peninsula, which has resulted in the sinking of the battleships Triumph and Majestic have brought officials to a realization of the great danger that will exist if Germany is able to increase her fleet of U boats.

The increasing activity of these underwater craft around the British Isles and the threat to carry the warfare to the Suez canal and the trade that passes through that waterway, while it has not caused any great uneasiness in naval circles here, is occupying much official attention.

Today came reports of the sinking of the British steamers Cadeby and Spennymoor and the Swedish bark M. Roosvall and a statement that the big liner Argyl-shire was chased and fired upon by a submarine boat but succeeded in escaping and reaching Havre.

Trade Goes On.

Trade to and from British ports, however, goes on as if there were no submarine danger and it is stated that there will be no interruption in the operations in the Dardanelles. The fleet there will have to assist the allies in the Gallipoli peninsula, taking chances of destruction by submarines and mines or shell fire.

The spirit of British merchantmen was indicated today in the reply of the sailor to Lord Mervyn's question at the inquiry into the sinking of the steamer Paluba by a German submarine some time ago. Asked whether he would go to sea again the sailor promptly replied: "Yes."

The Turks and their German officers probably will have another invasion to meet before long. Confidential reports reaching London today are that the Italians have landed on the island of Rhodes, off the coast of Asia Minor, while a cruiser has been bombarding Bedrum, which is on the Gulf of Kos, on the mainland of Asiatic Turkey. The Italian fleet today is believed to be the first step in an attempt to land on the Asia Minor coast.

Little Changes on Fronts.

There has been little or no change in the active fronts on the eastern or western battle fronts. The Austrians and Germans claim to have made a further advance in their operations, the aim of which is the encircling of Przemyśl, although they are meeting with very stubborn resistance on the part of the Russians.

In the west the French offensive north of Arras is still in progress but the advance by the allied troops seems to be not so fast as it was when the attack was first launched. The British also are engaged continuously on the Somme district, where the attack has been almost continuously on around Ypres, the attempt to capture which place is said to have cost the Italians a number of men. The Italians claim to have made further advances in the Trentino and Istria but no important battle has yet been fought in this southwestern theatre of the war.

French Official Statement.

Paris, May 28.—The official communication issued by the war office tonight says:

British troops have made progress toward La Bassée. The enemy has continued counter attacks with increasing violence near Angres. Five times they made these attacks during the day, but every time they were rolled back. During the night two counter attacks met with the same result. In less than twenty-four hours the Germans attacked unsuccessfully seven times.

We are holding entirely every one of our positions despite a continuous and very violent shelling.

"North of Ecur, on the especially difficult ground on some 100 meters. On the whole front Angres to Arras the artillery duel was especially violent throughout the day. We lost a number of our men but our last attack enabled us to reach at two different places the road from De Feyen to Norroy. We took 150 prisoners."

"In Alsace we made progress of several hundred meters on the mountain of Schepfenrath."

Austin, May 28.—Governor Ferguson today signed the proclamation which lifts the quarantine heretofore in effect against the shipment into Texas of cattle affected with foot and mouth disease. This action is the result of the conference held here on May 17 and upon the recommendation of the livestock sanitary commission. The proclamation declares that "all previous orders prescribed by the state of Texas relative to foot and mouth disease are hereby annulled and the following rules promulgated."

Rule 1 provides that all livestock of any description will be admitted into Texas in accordance with the rules and regulations of the United States bureau of animal industry and the statutory laws of Texas, from any state in the United States except Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Virginia, West Virginia and Wisconsin and the counties of Butler, Cowley, Sedgewick and Sumner in the state of Kansas. Horses, from the above excepted area, provided such animals are accompanied by a uniform health certificate showing stock to be free from any contagious disease, and that the legs and tails of such animals have been dipped in a solution of carbolic acid, will be admitted into Texas in accordance with the rules of the bureau of animal industry. These are the ports: El Paso, Fabens, Bosque, Borden, Brownsville, Weatherbee Crossing, Del Rio, Earle Pass, Palafra, Minerva, Nacato, Rio Grande, San Antonio, Hidalgo, Brownsville, Galveston, Texas City and Port Arthur.

No livestock shall be admitted from Mexico into that part of Texas north or west of the federal quarantine line, except from that part of Mexico which is allowed, satisfactory proof must be furnished that such stock has been owned for at least one year by the person, firm or corporation desiring to import, and that Rule 3 relates to the proper disinfection of cars.

Rule 4 provides penalty for violation of these rules and regulations.

The proclamation becomes effective on June 1, 1915.

from a technical viewpoint. Until such information is in hand, diplomatic action will be deferred.

Germany Would "Define Terms."

Berlin, May 28, Via London, May 29, 4:28 a. m.—On the eve of the delivery to the United States, Ambassador Gerard of the German reply to the American note on the destruction of the Lusitania the exact form and phraseology of the document would be unsettled and a change in details was under consideration.

The answer in substance, however, will embody a proposal to the United States to defer definite policy and Germany's demands until the two governments have had an opportunity to establish just what sort of a vessel was sunk—whether a peaceful merchant ship or an auxiliary cruiser on the German navy list, mounting guns, carrying a full complement of soldiers, carrying a cargo of munition and war supplies as indicated by information the German government claims to have received.

It will be in effect an invitation to "argue before proceeding with the discussion. Germany believes it is necessary to take up the question of disavowing the sinking of the Lusitania in general until the two governments reach an agreement upon the essential facts that it is impossible to decide, for instance, the question whether sufficient opportunity was given passengers and crew to escape until it is determined whether the Lusitania was provided with bulkheads and boats as ordered for corresponding emergencies in peace times by the international congress on safety at sea. Another question which it is held for the front is whether armament and explosives carried in defiance of American law accelerated the sinking of the ship and might other ships have been saved by reaching the coast.

Such is the general argument of the German government which may be expected also to display curiosity regarding the presence of the American compromise proposal to end submarine warfare and the American government's efforts to induce England to accept them.

With regard to the cases of the Cushing and Guilford, Germany will point out that she has disavowed repeatedly all intention of harming innocent neutral shipping even in the defensive neutral zone and will express her complete readiness to pay compensation for "unfortunate accidents."

No Report on Nebraska.

Berlin, via London, May 28.—The foreign office and the admiralty are still without news concerning the reported torpedoing of the American steamship Nebraska and deprecate all discussion of possible effect on German-American negotiations pending an authoritative confirmation of the attack on the ship. German newspapers have printed nothing about the incident since the first Rotterdam dispatches.

The torpedoing of the steamship Guilford is now established as due to a German submarine, the report of the commander of the submarine in question having been received by the admiralty. The commander stated that when he first saw the Guilford she was being conveyed by two patrol boats and he concluded that she must be a British vessel or was carrying contraband. The presence of the patrol boats, the commander reported, made closer investigation dangerous.

The main points of the German reply to the American note on the sinking of the Lusitania, probably are known to the administration in Washington, so the note itself, which is expected, will not be a surprise.

expected, will be delivered tomorrow, will not come as a surprise. The American ambassador has daily conferences at the foreign office, where terms of the German answer were discussed. Admiral von Behncke, acting chief of the admiralty staff, called at the American embassy this morning to explain certain technical details of Germany's position relative to submarine warfare.

American Press Impatient.

London, May 28.—A wireless dispatch received from Berlin today gives what purports to be a telegram sent by Count von Bernstorff, German ambassador at Washington, to the foreign office in Berlin. The telegram as thus given says that the American press is "getting impatient about the delay in the answer to the American note" and states that "the tenseness has been increased by the sinking of the Nebraska, which is not yet explained."

In another telegram to the foreign office, Count von Bernstorff is quoted as saying that American packers and cotton exporters are urging Washington to take energetic measures against the "unofficial" negotiations between the department of commerce and the British embassy have been broken off."

Shippers to Confer
at Austin May 31

Galveston, May 28.—It was learned today that there will be a conference of shippers, chambers of commerce and trade bodies in Austin on May 31 at which the proposed increase of freight rates in Texas will be considered. The second phase of the hearing on the application of the railroads for an increase in Texas rates is to come before the state railroad commission on June 1. The conference set for the preceding day was decided upon following exchanges of views among the various commercial organizations of Texas.

Turkish Official Statement.

Constantinople, via London, May 28.—An official statement by the war office today says:

"At Arbil and Seddul Bahr feeble infantry and artillery fire continues on both sides.

"On the coast of Gaba, Tepeh an enemy tug which attempted to tow in enemy ships was prevented from approaching the shore. Our soldiers waded far out into the water and under the enemy's fire took prisoners. Enemy cranes were destroyed. Bedrum, today fired 1,600 shells upon the town, damaging some houses, destroying a church and mosque, took six soldiers and our patrols took their standard and seven rifles. Today the enemy's cruisers have withdrawn from the Bedrum district.

"During the night of May 24, our troops attacked and captured five sailing vessels with provisions."

May Arrest for Old Murder.

Dallas, May 28.—An arrest in connection with the murder of John Thompson, thirty-four years ago, in the northeastern part of the county is expected at any time. Sheriff Will Reynolds Thursday afternoon filed an affidavit in connection with the case and made known the name of the man wanted. The killing occurred following a dance in the Bowlett community, near Goritz and captured five sailing vessels with provisions."

Temple Typhus Elect.

Temple, May 28.—Temple local No. 688, of the International Typographical Union, has elected Oscar G. Williams as its representative to the annual convention of the organization to be held at Los Angeles in August. Mr. Williams is making arrangements to attend.

Body of Boy Recovered.

Tulsa, Okla., May 28.—The body of a boy, believed to be that of Harry Davis, drowned in the Arkansas river, was recovered near Jenks today. The Arkansas river is receding here and the danger point is believed to have passed.

to give effect to the purposes of the resolution. The committee will meet at the call of Chairman Harley tomorrow morning for organization and to arrange its plans for the investigation.

Suitor insisted on a vote on his resolution for the printing in the Journal of letters of W. O. Stamps in regard to his removal, which had been pending since early morning and was being held off by other matters. The resolution was defeated 10 to 9.

The free conference report on the miscellaneous appropriation bill, carrying $977,977 was adopted 19 to 3, the three negatives being Suitor, Morrow and Johnson with Lattimore not voting. This bill carries $415,000 for repairs to the capital building. The senate passed finally the house bill providing for the payment of the current expenses of the penitentiary system from January 1, 1915, to January 1, 1916. Senator Cossell explained in connection with this bill that $771,000 which had been placed in the miscellaneous appropriation bill to pay debts and claims due by the system had been cut out at the suggestion of the governor.

Night Session.

Shortly before midnight all the appropriations reported from free conference reports adopted and both senate and house were indulging in fun-and-horse-play until bills could be enrolled and signed and the final adjournment announced. The total appropriations for two years aggregating $14,884,567, which show a decrease of more than three millions from the bills as passed and sent to conference. The house made a strong fight to cut out the $415,000 for capital repairs, but finally appropriated it.

At midnight agreement on congressional redistricting was farther off than ever and now it is conceded there will be no bill although the subject is locally at work trying to adjust the matters so a bill can be reported. The governor are: Departmental bill, $5,169,312; judiciary, $2,165,632; elementary, $4,049,460; educational, $4,504,166; miscellaneous, $997,997; total $14,884,567.

Resume of Session.

Comparatively few measures of general importance were enacted at the special session of the thirty-fourth legislature, which terminates today, but the majority of the measures passed being more or less local in their nature. A resume of the work of the sessions discloses there were 73 bills introduced in the house and 57 in the senate, but the majority of these were not of general importance. By far the most important bill passed during the present session was the act making an appropriation of $1,000,000 for the country schools of the state. Besides the appropriation bills, the following are the bills of general importance enacted during this session: portance enacted during this session: appropriation dry dock bill; making an appropriation of $300,000 for establishment of new blind institute; relating to business of co-operative societies and the titles held on old Mexican and Spanish law grants; bill placing jurisdiction of the railroad commission relating to the posting of notices of sales of property under deeds of trusts; relating to the pay of jail guards; relieving the Sugarland railway from the construction of three and a half miles of track in Fort Bend county; creating a state equalization tax commission; providing for the employment of persons by the controller to collect inheritance taxes; bill permitting interurbans to absorb other interurbans; appropriating $10,000 to purchase the site of Texas' first capitol in Washington county; requiring butchers to give bonds and regulating butchers' business; Beards of Harris, that the girl was killed in the factory.

How news regarding natural Vitalitas quickly traveled through members of the Maddox family living in three cities is told in the following interview given by Mr. S. Maddox of 1515 Broadway, Nashville:

"My son, John Maddox, who lives in Oil City, La., got such results from Vitalitas that he sent me a bottle saying it was the finest medicine that could be bought. It cured his muscular rheumatism. I have taken, in all, about six bottles and each bottle makes me feel better. I recommended it to my brother, William, 60 years old, who is in Mobile, and he wrote me it has done him lots of good. He has an old negro working for him who was not able to work and was in a few days was back working and strong. We are all stonewaters and believe in Vitalitas as suffering."

The foregoing illustrates the way in which Vitalitas has become so popular throughout the south in all climates. It is Nature's greatest corrective and tonic and it should be in every home.

SOCIETY NOTES AND PERSONALS.

At last Waco is interested in a June wedding in which the man in the case is of vastly more interest than the woman. Can such an anomaly be credited? However, this groom does not abide in this city except in the interest of many friends.

During her visit in Austin, Miss Vivien Mayfield, whose position as sorority inspector makes her quite prominent, was the recipient of many special courtesies among State university students.

In leaving within the next few days, Miss Nellie Dancy of the Kyle visits her mother and sister in Seguin, pays a short visit to Corpus Christi, and is then off for the Pacific Slope.

Now that automobiles are coming into such general use, a code of etiquette follows. Mistresses are reminded to instruct chauffeurs as to curb and drive etiquette.

We noticed a new name for face powder the other day:

"Scott Tonic." That sounds very catchy, but visitors to Scotland have found the cold, biting winds conducive to blood bursting vessels, and complications anything but to be coveted. So, the makers of the powder had better cast about for a new name. They say, you know, that the title to a book sells many more copies than the contents. Is it the same with face preparations?

The small boys with their marbles are not the circumstance to the way the women trade their flowers during the bedding and transplanting season.

Following their early season trip through California, Mr. and Mrs. M. Holderman are now in their own home, Fremont, Ohio.

On Sunday, Eugene Steiner goes from his country place to Austin. He returns in automobile trip with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Steiner, who will summer on the Steiner farm. They are due with Monday.

The Nones in being guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rotan on Monday closed their sessions for the year unless it is decided to have a picnic. Miss Virginia Rose is at home from school in Washington City. She is with her sister, Mrs. Thad Hewlett, North Eighteenth street.

Miss Lalla Fay Lack of Washington street arrived from school in Washington City on Thursday.

Mrs. Caldwell of Bonham is in the city for an indefinite time. She is leaving for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Schumacher in Columbus, Ohio, before taking a more permanent summer home.

After a few days in Galveston, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Padgett, Fourteenth and Columbus, are at home.

Mrs. W. E. Spell of West Austin is at home from San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. Stottler of Seventh and Baylor are entertaining their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Crouch from Illinois.

Mrs. Edward Rotan, Fifteenth and Columbus, is leaving with Sunday for Dallas, where she attends a board meeting for the Girls' Industrial school.

Mrs. Mary Evans of North Thirteenth street, who has been in Arlington for a few days, is now due at home.

After a visit of two weeks in Llano, Mrs. Joseph Speight of North Eighteenth street is now due at home.

On Monday, Miss Patty Casseday will come over from Corsicana to spend her vacation with her mother, Mrs. W. A. Casseday, South Eighth street.

Miss Louise Webb of Albany is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Joseph Ward, West Columbus.

Mrs. de la Posse, formerly Miss Leta Rotan, is down from Albany to spend a few days with Mrs. Joseph Ward, West Columbus.

On Sunday, Miss Beuna Clinton, Eleventh and Columbus, goes for a visit with Mrs. Ernest Groos in San Antonio.

Mrs. Ruby Valley of New Mexico is on a visit to her sister, Mrs. Fred Mailander, West Austin.

After a few days with friends in the city, Mr. and Mrs. Penn are returning home to Waxahachie today.

Temple Fire Department Campaign. Temple, May 28.—The Young Men's Business League is making arrangements for a monster public meeting at city park on Monday night, May 31, in the interest of the proposed $40,000 fire department bond issue to be voted on June 1.

A street parade headed by a band will form at the city hall composed of members of the league and the fire department and march to the park, where a speaking program will be carried out. C. E. McKeehan has been recommended for appointment as permanent secretary of the league by a nominating committee. The proposed western trades excursion to have been conducted on June 3 has been temporarily abandoned owing to unfavorable railway rates.

Temple Boosts Commission Form. Temple, May 28.—A mass meeting of citizens was held at Carnegie library last night to inaugurate a campaign for the commission form of government in this city as a substitute for the present mayor-alderman plan. W. O. Cox was chosen chairman, with W. Goodrich Jones, secretary. A number of speeches were made favoring the change after which a resolution was adopted that petitions be circulated calling for the election of a charter revision convention and that when five hundred signatures had been obtained to same that the petitions be presented to the city council.

The first of the morning games for the Bachelor Maids came with Miss Ellen Harden hostess. So pleasant did this prove that it was decided to play in the morning again with Miss Harden hostess. Miss Harden's luncheon offered cooling dainties.

This club will not adjourn for the summer although several members will be absent from time to time. On next Thursday afternoon Mrs. Mary Archibald entertains.

MRS. SHAPLEY ROSS

FOR MRS. BAYLISS EARLE

It is now the social credit of Mrs. Shapley Ross that she is luncheon hostess for one of the first daisy luncheons in the new season for reign of this bloom. The table held as center the white enamel basket with its first pluckings of the open daisies. From this, other details of attractive touches were wrought into the table picture. Also, into the service, the daisy ones of white and gold were introduced, the last finding the daisy color in reception sticks. Mrs. Ross paid compliment to Mrs. Bayliss Earle as a bride. Her guests were the Mesdames Earle, Moore, Moore of New York City, Sidney Burrows, Clinton Ford, Ben Gray Kendall, George McLendon, Robert Dupree and William Cameron.

The separate card enclosed to the more intimate friends reads:

GUESTS FROM SWEDEN

DINED BY T. F. BUSH

In quite an elaborate dinner party, and one which carried enjoyment from first course to last, T. F. Bush introduced two honor guests in the Mesdames Hugo and Evers, from Sweden. These visitors were on their way to the East with the following day. Theirs could be but the agreeable impression of full dark orchestra for dancing between courses out at the Huaco club. Special refreshment followed the dinner proper, and jollity pervaded all.

The table seated a touch of telling effect in pink flower, and maline, freshened by foliage. In suggestion of Sweden's plea for peace, the pipe of peace made plate souvenirs for the men, while the women's favors were pretty summer fans. One pleasing feature in this dinner introduced as visitors again to the city, Mr. and Mrs. Penn of Waxahachie. As guests, the Mesdames Bush, Hugo and Evers, Eastland, the Mesdames, and Mesdames Penn of Waxahachie, Lee Cowan, William Neale and Plo

Crespi, with the Mesdames William Breustedt, Loretta Reeves and Keith Watson Matthews.

WOMAN'S CLUB GUESTS

FOR ANNUAL PICNIC

It is now recorded in local club life that the Woman's Club is adjourned until the cool days come again. It has been the custom of this club for many years gone, to say au revoir for the season out at the Fish Pond. However, the condition of county roads caused a change for 1915. Country Club is selected for the all day picnic. No details developed other than welcome to guests and the beautiful dinner and the pleasure of the open. Members took out flowers from their own gardens, which gave the touch of natural beauty to the table. There were present, guests and members, the Mesdames Minnie Taylor, Louise Willis, Bernice Young, Susan Grace Prather, Decca Lamar West, Mesdames O. E. Arbuckle, Glasgow, Llewellyn Aubrey, Allan Sanford, A. J. Armstrong, Mordis Falkner, the Wills, W. H. Talley, William Breustedt, Charles Boynton, Ermine Carrington, Webster, J. Arch Gamel, T. L. McCullough, John G. Kendall, E. R. Nash, Ben Gray, Kendall, Lee Davis, J. L. Kesler, W. H. Pool, J. R. Milam, W. W. Woodson, William Mistrot, C. P. Link, William McCall, W. E. Spell, W. E. Darden, Edward Rotan, Thomas Caldwell, John Sleeper, W. C. Richter, E. W. Thompson, J. D. Willis, A. E. Wells, B. H. Schroeder, Mary Edmond, William Meade, Richard Munroe, J. W. Downs, E. M. Dotson, Fred Robinson.

DAISY CHAIN ANNUAL

IS NOW CIRCULATED

Students of the high school, seniors especially, are interested in the Daisy Chain Annual which has just come from the press. This is a great credit to student ability, as well as an exhibition of high school life which shows Waco up to the standard in activity. Since the first of the classes graduated the daisy has been senior patron. It is the daisy which is the honored "daisy chain" formed at Wellesley college every year, the annual publication comes forth in the name of the Daisy Chain. This year finds Miss Adrienne Wilkes and Miss Flora Edmond listed as editors in chief of the Daisy Chain. The departments of student activity are all under supervision. Miss Wilkes did their work well. In addition to the exceedingly neat appearance in paper, print and picture, the contributions are good from a literary standpoint. The poem, "The Legend of Hueco Spring," is well worthy of mention. There is true poetic quality as well as tuneful melody in the dedication of the 1915 seniors honors Miss Nellie Mullins, teacher of history.

Fourteen make the Daisy Chain staff, boys and girls. The poem, "Daughters of the Confederacy," also as characteristic quotation. These apply forcefully, and thus evince a close association with the daisy chain. The mid-year and the June graduates are mingled. All possible information as souvenir for the years to come is given. Prizes are given by Misses Marian Renick and Sally Hall are printed. The usual class history and prophecy, the events of senior life socially, and the class play, are all mentioned. The Daisy Chain teachers are given, reminders of school days hereafter. Nor are the usual "hits" at students and teachers with the bits of humor neglected. In all, the Daisy Chain Annual is satisfying to the eye as well as to the mind.

The City Federation HAS FORMAL ADJOURNMENT

The City Federation will remain inactive during the summer months unless something urgent requires a meeting. Out at Cameron park on Thursday afternoon, final adjournment came. In this, Mrs. Fred Robinson in retiring as president, made very brief remarks, and handed the gavel to her successor, Mrs. E. M. Dotson. Mrs. Dotson's acceptance showed her recognition of the responsibilities of the office, as well as her ability as a speaker. With her membership in the Mary West church, as president of the Woman's auxiliary of the First Baptist church, Mrs. Dotson's acquaintance is widened, and her opportunity to observe what may be done is unlimited. Upon the incoming executive board are: Vice presidents, Mesdames J. W. Downs, E. J. Lennox, W. H. Forrester and J. G. Wren; secretaries, Mrs. Abe Frank and Mrs. J. W. Holloway; treasurer, Mrs. N. H. Church (temporary).

No business was transacted. Following the induction, Miss Decca Lamar West and Mrs. T. W. Robertson as incoming officers of the Fourth district, were called upon for a few remarks. Mrs. R. V. McClain, chairman of the social feature, presided at an attractive punch table, with the young girls from the several clubs serving. At the close, it was found that sufficient of the refreshments remained to give the children at the picnic a treat. This was done. It is now that the City Federation rests from its labors.

Much Good Done.

In review of the year, it is found that the club women banded as the City Federation have accomplished much. In the reports made at the district meeting in Bryan, women from other towns marveled at what Waco had accomplished in her individual clubs. The federation has promoted broader measures. Each session has found addresses upon some line of interest to the club women or of benefit to the city as a whole. The coming year promises much more, since the sentiment grows stronger every day, for a union of all women's organizations in promotion of whatever affects all women of Waco. As it is phrased a treat. This was done. It is now that the City Federation rests from its labors.

GREAT HELP TO A SICK WOMAN

This Lady Says, "I Cannot Find Words to Express How Thankful I Am to Cardui"

Jonesville, Va.—"I certainly appreciate what Cardui, the woman's tonic, has done for me," writes Mrs. Owen F. Wells, of this town. "Before I began to take Cardui, I could hardly go about. I had several womanly troubles, which caused me much suffering, and were very troublesome. But now I feel like a different person."

I had often read of Cardui, but had little faith in it. My husband urged me to try it, and now I cannot find words to express how thankful I am. Cardui is a wonderful medicine and I feel that it was a greater help than anything I could have taken.

I had scarcely no pain or suffering at childbirth, and I feel I owe it all to Cardui. I know that no woman would make a mistake in using Cardui at that most critical time. It will save them so much suffering.

It is my sincere desire that this statement may be seen and read by all sufferers who suffer as I did. I am telling all my friends and acquaintances of the great cure I have received.

If you suffer from any of the ailments so common to women, give Cardui a trial. Thousands of women have voluntarily written, to tell of the great benefit that Cardui has been to them. Why shouldn't it help you, too? Try Cardui.

THE GOVERNOR AND MR. STAMPS.

In his formal proclamation declaring his removal of W. O. Stamps as a member of the penitentiary commission, Governor Ferguson has not made out a clear case against the commissioner, for there were doubtless reasons which Mr. Stamps deemed sufficient for the sale of the farm products at the time and for the price at which they were disposed of. It does look like poor business judgment to sell corn for 60 cents when more corn would have to be purchased later on at 90 cents, and syrup at 20 cents when new syrup would have to be purchased later at 40 cents, but Mr. Stamps says the sale of this produce was necessary in order to meet the payroll and the men in the employ of the penitentiary system had to have their salary in order to support their families.

Last year was an exceedingly hard one, as everybody knows, especially for the cotton farmers, and Mr. Stamps would doubtless not have sold the corn and the syrup at the prices he did if he had been able to sell the cotton crop at the figures which represented the real value of that staple. The penitentiary system is in a bad plight, we know, and we think it is in this plight more largely as a result of poor management than from freezes, overflows and wars, but Commissioner Stamps is not responsible for all of the poor management, at least, and we dislike to see him or any other man made the goat for political purposes.

It is very doubtful if the governor has the right under the law creating the penitentiary commission to thus arbitrarily remove him, for regardless of Mr. Stamps' ability or lack of it, as the case might be, it appears the governor has permitted political considerations to enter into the matter and for future guidance of executives, as well as to determine whether an executive can step in and arbitrarily remove an officer on insufficient charges merely to gratify a political desire, we would like to see a court of competent jurisdiction pass upon the issue between the governor and the commissioner.

The senate is considering the naming of an investigating committee to thresh over the whole penitentiary matter. It is not known at this writing what the action of the senate will be, but we hope the investigation, if ordered, will be conducted by others than members of the senate or of the house. Members of both branches of the legislature have preconceived ideas as to what is the matter with the penitentiary and what is necessary to afford relief. What the situation needs is a thorough study by three unprejudiced and unbiased business men, who are entirely independent of political influence, who have no friends to reward nor enemies to punish, and who are under no obligation to Governor Ferguson or anyone else.

Several days ago we suggested the appointment of an efficiency commission to consist of a successful farmer on a large scale, a successful merchant and a successful banker, who should go into the fiscal affairs of the system particularly, for this is the end of the system that has placed the penitentiary in its most embarrassing position and which is making it a heavy and unequal burden to the taxpayers of Texas. This commission ought to serve without pay, further than its expenses, and make its investigations during the summer and report its findings to the governor not later than early fall. Some such investigation, in our opinion, will be about the only one that will be of material value and afford anything like a proper basis upon which to proceed with the re-organization of the fiscal end of the penitentiary system.

The weather man is providing us with ideal weather again and we are now ready to admit that the heavy rain of Wednesday night was a good thing in many respects.

It begins to look as if it will be the bankers of the United States who will put the pan into Pan-Americanism.

EXECUTIVES AND APPROPRIATIONS.

In a statement before the constitutional convention of the state of New York, John J. Fitzgerald, chairman of the appropriations committee of the lower house of congress, declared that the federal government could be run at from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000 less per annum than is being done at present and advocated that the president of the nation and the governors of the states should be made largely responsible for the appropriations.

We agree with Mr. Fitzgerald that the federal government could be run much more economically than it is at present and without any sacrifice of efficiency. We believe the reduction could be made much larger than he has suggested, but we doubt the wisdom of concentrating the responsibility for the making of appropriations upon the executives. They have the exercise of the veto prerogative when they want to use it, but this is a lost art on appropriation bills, we believe, so far as the federal government is concerned. We have an idea President Wilson would have exercised his pruning knife upon some of the appropriation bills had it not been for the fact that so many affairs of international scope have arisen during his administration as to make a close consideration of all the items in the appropriation bill next to impossible.

It was our conviction that the president should have used his influence and his veto if necessary to bring about a reduction in the enormous pension bill in conformance with the party's pledge of economy, and we think if Mr. Fitzgerald should turn his attention to the pension system he would find where the government could save as much as he suggests on the pension awards alone. Here is the one monumental graft allowed by the federal government—there may be others—and Mr. Fitzgerald and other members of congress know it.

The Brooklyn congressman is doubtless correct in his declaration that some congressmen do not care what the total appropriation bill is so long as the local items in which they are interested are included. And it is doubtless true, as charged, that these men trade their support of certain measures in return for support for appropriations for local measures or pensions.

But there is another extreme that would doubtless be reached if Mr. Fitzgerald's plan of placing the responsibility for appropriations upon the governors rather than the state legislatures were put into effect. And this other extreme would be the playing of politics by the governors at the expense of state institutions and other interests. We have had instances of needed appropriations being vetoed so recently as during the Campbell and Colquitt administrations in the hope of carrying political favor by keeping down the tax rate, and Governor Ferguson has threatened to do the same thing by reducing the appropriations to the extension services of the several larger state institutions.

Our system of government is one of checks and balances. The governor is a check upon the legislature, but the legislature should be no less a check upon the governor, and we are not willing to place the whole responsibility for state appropriations upon any governor, nor any other one individual, for he can not inform himself accurately upon all the details of the state government and it is hardly reasonable to suppose that his judgment would be superior to the collective judgment of the practically 200 men who make up the state legislature.

SWAT THE ROOSTER.

Following a very successful egg and butter show by the farmers and farmers' wives of Tarrant and Dallas counties at Arlington last Saturday afternoon a marketing association was formed for the purpose of disposing of all the eggs, butter, cream and poultry produced by the members of the association. It is planned that each community will form an egg and butter club for the purpose of raising more and better eggs, butter, cream and poultry. Emphasis was laid upon the non-fertile egg and with this in mind the association adopted the motto of "Swat the rooster and ship a carload of non-fertile eggs each week." A home canning factory was planned to can the fruit and vegetables of the various members of the association on a co-operative basis.

This co-operative plan of production and marketing is along the lines the Morning News has been urging for the farmers of McLennan county and we hope by continual reference to the need for such a movement and showing what is being accomplished along similar lines in other counties to finally secure such organization among our home people. The farmers of McLennan county are just as intelligent and can become just as thrifty and resourceful as those of any other county if they will but apply themselves. They need to diversify more. They have the soil and the climate. Co-operation would bring them the market. All that would be left would be to get the seed and plant the stuff and raise the crops.

This can be done easily, once the start is made. Before this year is out the organization staff of the extension service of A. and M. College ought to be invited here to assist in the launching of a movement that will give the farmers of this country the benefits of a co-operative marketing association next year. Over in Comanche county they effected such an organization without any outside help and the farmers are making money as a result of it.

According to an exchange, a Philadelphia parrot screamed so that the police entered the house and found the mistress dead from drinking poison. "Get out!" wailed the parrot when told what had happened.

POPULARITY OF THE MOMENT.

How much the popularity of the moment is worth is illustrated once more by the fierce criticism to which Kitchener has been subjected in England, observes the Baltimore Sun. A few months ago the British press could find nothing too extravagant to say in his praise. He was a man who united all the qualities necessary for the great crisis, the instrument specially fashioned by fate to serve and save the empire in its time of greatest need. The British press fairly idolized him, and column after column of stories were printed illustrative of the masterly qualities and traits of this silent, mysterious, almost omnipotent molder of national destinies. He was, in fact, virtually crowned British Czar, and Great Britain waited with calm confidence for him to smash the German "barbarians." But since, after months of waiting, the "smashing" was still unaccomplished, the fickle multitude began to run to the other extreme and to doubt whether he amounts to anything at all. The London Daily News bitterly reproached Lord Northcliffe and his newspaper organs, which a few months ago declared Kitchener to be the man of destiny, for giving expression to this popular clamor and depreciating his real ability.

As Englishmen themselves seem to disagree as to whether Kitchener measures up to the demands of the situation, an intelligent verdict can scarcely be rendered by the average man on this side of the water. Nevertheless, all the probabilities seem to be that Kitchener is far better than he is considered now by his critics, and much less of a superman than popular imagination made him out to be in the beginning. In the field of active operations he has performed notable things in war—witness Egypt and witness South Africa—and there is little question that he retains the stern qualities of blood and iron which gave him the mastery there. But the mistake seems to have been in loading him down, or permitting him to load himself down, with duties for which he was not fitted, such as the supervision of contracts for ammunition and other details of administration that could have been better done by others. And another mistake was in permitting him to muzzle the press and to keep the British public in the dark as to occurrences at the front. Kitchener, it appears to the foreign observer, is not so much to blame as the government which allows him to attempt too much and to meddle with things he did not understand. He is a soldier and can do a soldier's work yet, unless all previous estimates of his capacity have been utterly wrong.

Now that the work of British cabinet readjustment has been completed, Kitchener probably will find his right place and fall into his best stride. But meanwhile he got what many men have got before him—a valuable glimpse of the uncertainty and worthlessness of popular fame.

The little humming bird can do better than the aeroplane, for in its migration across the Gulf of Mexico it flies over 500 miles in a single night. Nearly all birds in fact show in their soaring and sailing that they are proficient in the use of several factors in the art of flying that have not yet been mastered either in principle or practice by the most skillful of modern aviators. A vulture or a crane, after a few preliminary wing beats, sets its wings and mounts in wide sweeping circles to a great height, overcoming gravity with no exertion apparent to human vision even when assisted by the most powerful telescopes.

We think those Louisiana admirers of Roosevelt who made up a small purse and provided a gun and then advised him to join his choice of the armies in Europe made a mistake. They should have sent him down to Mexico to subdue the revolutions there. He and Oscar B. Colquitt would clean up Mexico by July 4 and make possible a declaration of independence for that country, or annex it to the United States, just as circumstances might dictate.

The Waxahachie Chamber of Commerce is trying to secure a Carnegie medal for Nellie Jenkins, a fourteen-year-old girl of Nash, Ellis county, who saved the life of Mrs. Alma Marshall by fighting off a vicious bull with a hoe. The bull had knocked the woman down and seriously injured her when the girl came to the rescue. The girl is a heroine whether she gets the medal or not.

The big task in the Texas league appears to be able to find some aggregation that can out-pirate that Galveston bunch. If the Navigators can keep on duplicating their Dallas stunt of Thursday they may be able to do the work, but they will have their hands full if the Galvestonians stay on the job in the manner they have been for the past few weeks.

The report of the federal department of health on San Antonio's "corrals" where Mexicans have been herded like sheep into very small and poorly ventilated rooms is not much credit to a city that poses as a health resort, but it is to the credit of San Antonio that the situation will be immediately remedied.

One of the interesting questions of the war now is, How long will England retain her title of "Mistress of the Seas" if the German submarines get many more Triumphs, Majestics, Invincibles and other battleships with high-sounding titles?

To the campaign of fly-swatting and rattle-killing the Houston Post suggests the addition of weed-cutting. We say "Amen."

The eugenics of investments is the mating of values with good management, observes a financial exchange.

Well, I guess I can "commode" you if you're mind to just sort o' take things a they come. We don't put on no air here, we don't. ## IS THE FLOOD SITUATION IMPROVEMENT IN THE WATERS' PASS- ING IN THE THREAT- ENED SECTIONS.

ARKANSAS RIVER STATIONARY

Several Larger Tributaries of Kansas Reported Rising—May Yet Cause Trouble.

Kansas City, May 28.—General improvement in the flood situation throughout Eastern Oklahoma, Kansas and Western Missouri gave hope to threatening sections tonight that the flood waters would pass without creating more serious conditions.

The Arkansas river was stationary at Muskogee and receding at Tulsa and the Kansas and Missouri rivers were stationary here.

Several of the larger tributaries of the Kansas were reported rising, however, and officials of the local weather bureau said but little additional rain was needed to precipitate a disastrous overflow in the lower sections of Kansas City. More storms in Oklahoma today increased the property damage but it was hoped the rainfall would be drained by the Arkansas without further breaks in levees. Only light rains were reported in Kansas and Missouri today.

The life loss in the storm and flood swept district was placed at eighteen tonight with injured expected to die and a score of persons suffering from minor hurts. No estimate of the property damage was available but it will run into the hundreds of thousands.

While the crest of the Missouri river flood is expected to reach this city tomorrow there is little fear that much damage will result. Conditions along the Arkansas river, however, are more serious. The Fourche river has overflowed its banks. Near Van Buren, Ark., the levee has given way and fears are entertained that the dikes at Dardanelle, Ark., and Fort Gibson, Okla., will not hold long.

The vast storm center which centered Wednesday in Southern Kansas and the Texas Panhandle, and yesterday in Northern Oklahoma, has moved north and east until it now hovers over Northwest Missouri, according to P. Connor, local weather observer. Flood warnings have been sent to all points down the Missouri river. No warnings have, however, been sent north along the Missouri or west along the Kansas.

Severe electrical and wind storms have caused heavy property damage and loss of life. A tornado at Tallahassee, Okla., May 26, caused the death of one man and a child, Catherine Clements, is expected to die. W. W. Wood, oil field worker, was killed by lightning at Mannford, Okla. Mrs. John Kirkland was drowned by a cloudburst at Thomasville, Okla. William Cross and Mrs. John Kinion were killed Thursday when lightning struck the Cross home near Adair, Okla. James Brown probably was fatally injured in a tornado six miles east of Adair.

Great property damage is reported as a result of tornadoes at Checotah, Okla., and Stigler, Okla. At the last Checotah the property damage, exclusive of that to crops in that district, is estimated at $100,000. The town is without light. Fifty residences were damaged by the tornado at Checotah Thursday night. The damage there is placed at $30,000.

Want Business Men From the U. S. to Visit South America

Washington, May 28.—Another step toward the improvement of business and financial relations between the Americas was taken at the Pan-American financial conference here today when delegates from the southern republics unanimously approved a resolution calling upon business and commercial interests of the United States to unite within the next six months in naming a delegation to visit all the South and Central American countries.

Adoption of the resolution and a report from the committee on uniform laws for all American nations marked today's general session. The committee on uniform laws suggested a high commission of nine members from each country to consider uniformity in statutes relating to many subjects of vital concern commercial intercourse between the republics.

After the session the delegates were the guests of Secretary of War Garrison at a special drill on the parade grounds at Fort Meyer.

The Argentine delegation today virtually concluded consideration of recommendations respecting arbitration of commercial disputes between merchants of different nations.

Conference on Child Labor at Exposition

San Francisco, May 28.—The eleventh annual conference of the National Child Labor committee opened here today at the Panama-Pacific exposition. Mrs. Florence Kelly of New York, general secretary of the National Consumers' league, was the principal speaker.

"We cannot buy cotton goods in this country with a clear conscience," said Mrs. Kelly. "For there are no cotton fields where there are not child laborers. Unless we ask the congress which protects our industries to protect our children too, we cannot have clear consciences."

"The slogan of organized labor is 'Child labor must go,'" said Paul Scharenberg of San Francisco, secretary of the California State Federation of Labor. "The exploiter of child labor is but a homicide on the whole-sale. Child labor is not essential to any industry. Any industry that needs child labor is not essential to society."

Dr. Felix Adler of New York, chairman of the committee, who presided, spoke strongly in favor of a national child labor law.

American Foodstuffs Exports on Increase

Washington, May 28.—American foodstuff exports amounted to almost $400,000,000 more during the ten months ending with April this year than during that period in the previous year. Analysis of that class of exports, announced today by the department of commerce, shows their values to have been $365,146,290.

The huge increase has been due chiefly to the European war. The figures do not include statistics of manufacturers and manufacturing materials exports which also have vastly increased. Raw cotton exports during the period decreased $236,000,000 and mineral oils $19,000,000.

Some idea of the demands upon the United States for foodstuffs is shown in the valuations of the articles exported during the ten months.

Forty million bushels of corn, valued at $13,000,000, an increase of almost $2,000,000; wheat valued at $296,981,000; flour, $77,869,916; canned beef, $8,473,376; fresh beef, $12,862,000; and cotton seed oil, $17,541,000.

WACOANS APPOINTED TO SUPREME COURT

GOV. FERGUSON NAMES J. E. YANTIS AS SUCCESSOR TO CHIEF JUSTICE T. J. BROWN.

JUDGE PHILLIPS IS PROMOTED

Appointment No Surprise in Waco. State's Chief Executive Issues Statement.

Austin, Tex., May 28.—Associate Justice Nelson Phillips, of the supreme court, was appointed by Governor Ferguson today to be chief justice of the state's highest tribunal to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Chief Justice T. J. Brown. The governor appointed Judge J. E. Yantis of Waco, associate justice to fill the vacancy caused by the elevation of Justice Phillips to the chief justiceship.

The new chief justice has been a member of the supreme court since 1902. He was appointed by Governor Colquhoun to fill out the unexpired term of Justice W. F. Ramsey, who resigned to become a gubernatorial candidate. In 1912, Judge Phillips was elected for a six-year term to the time of his appointment to the supreme court bench, Judge Phillips was a resident of Dallas. He has made a splendid record as a jurist and some of the most important opinions handed down by the supreme court were written by him.

Judge Yantis, who is to succeed Judge Phillips as associate justice, is recognized as one of the state's most distinguished lawyers. He served as assistant attorney general during the Lanham administration and also has represented McLennan county in the Texas senate. Governor Ferguson in announcing the appointments of Justices Phillips and Yantis issued the following statement:

"Following the not wholly unexpected demise of that great and renowned jurist, T. J. Brown, it has become my official duty to officially appoint his successor. It has been a matter of no little concern that I must in some measure disappoint a great number of worthy applicants for this exalted position, who are in every way eminently qualified for the place, and I am sure that my many friends, who have asked me to appoint them, will recognize that my failure to grant their request is not to be considered a want of knowledge or confidence in their ability or a lack of appreciation of their loyalty to me, but take in the light of the fact that I have but one place to fill.

"I have had numerous communications pertaining to this appointment, and I make this statement in answer to all. I have decided to appoint Judge Nelson Phillips to fill the place made vacant by the death of Chief Justice Brown. I am sure that the bar generally will agree with me that Judge Phillips possesses every qualification, as a man and every attainment as a lawyer necessary for service in this capacity. Each year of fifteen years' acquaintance with him has caused me to grow stronger in my admiration of his character as a man with ability as a judge.

"To fill the place made vacant by the appointment of Judge Phillips, it is with much personal pride and gratification that I appoint my life-long friend, Hon. J. E. Yantis, of McLennan county. I do not hesitate to say that I think Mr. Yantis to be one of the biggest men, mentally and every other way, in Texas. Of a judicial temperament and training, with unimpeachable integrity and impelled by no other desire than to serve acceptably his country, I am more than sanguine that he will make a great judge.

"Added to the qualifications of these two worthy sons of Texas will be the known dignity and qualification of my good friend, Judge W. E. Hawkins. From this efficient tribunal the public may confidently expect capable, prompt and efficient service, such as the dignity of that station demands."

James Edwin Yantis was born in Hickman county, Kentucky, April 2, 1858. With his parents, he came to Collin county, Texas, was reared there, taught school for a few years, read law in the office of Judge John Church of McKinney and was admitted to the bar in 1887.

He opened up his first law office at Sweetwater, moving from there to Waco in January, 1893. He has since then never since, except for two sided here and there, he has been in Waco with J. T. Studer, formerly of Waco. While he will have to spend most of his time from now on in Austin, he says he is always ready to consider Waco as his home.

Judge Yantis was elected to the state senate from this district in 1896, served the one term and declined to stand for re-election. The year 1896 will always be dear to Judge Yantis' heart for another reason, as it was on January 28 of that year that he was married to Miss Lillie Sloan of Temple. Judge Yantis says he is old-fashioned—he still has the same wife.

He was appointed by Governor Lanham to fill out the unexpired term of Justice Nelson Phillips, who died in 1914. After his term expired, he returned to Waco and engaged in private practice of his profession.

Judge Yantis is one of the most well-beloved members of the legal profession in Waco and his friends were not surprised to learn that he was to be appointed to the supreme court. Judge Yantis was an applicant for the position which adds all the more to the honor of his appointment.

Roosevelt Personally Thanks Burns

EDWARD BURNS

For many hours the man pictured here practically held the political fate of William Barnes and former President Roosevelt in his hands. When the twelve men who heard the evidence in the libel suit brought by Mr. Barnes against Mr. Roosevelt retired, one jurymen, Burns by name and a motorman by occupation, stubbornly opposed a vote in favor of a real verdict for the colonel. He was the one central figure in the one public act furnishing the climax of the five weeks' political drama. There were reports that everything but a fist fight had been resorted to by the jurymen to compel an agreement. Although Mr. Roosevelt thanked all of the jurymen, he was more than cordial to Burns.

TO MAKE INSPECTION OF HUCKSTER WAGONS

CITY FOOD INSPECTOR WILL BEGIN CAMPAIGN TO ENFORCE LAW THIS MORNING.

Dr. R. H. Hodges Says Fruits and Vegetables Must Be Protected Against Dust.

Vendors of vegetables and fruits in the city will be required to comply with the state laws prohibiting exposing these commodities for sale without adequate protection against dust, flies and dirt, according to Dr. R. H. Hodges, city pure food inspector. Dr. Hodges announces that he will make inspections of vegetable and fruit wagons, beginning this morning, as they start out from the commission houses. These commission houses must also screen their stocks against flies and dirt, according to Dr. Hodges.

In company with Dr. Richard Hudson, state pure food inspector, Dr. Hodges made a round of the slaughter houses, meat markets, restaurants, fruit stands, confectioneries and grocery stores of the city. Samples of meat and milk sold in the city were taken by Dr. Hudson last night to Austin for analysis. Dr. Hudson will return next week, when some complaints will probably be filed.

Dr. Hodges says he will give special attention within the next few weeks to the fruit and vegetable wagons. He will make inspections at the commission houses early each morning as they take on their day's supply of vegetables and fruits. Dr. Hodges is also endeavoring to eliminate what he calls the "country" habit of displaying fruits and vegetables on the sidewalk.

Particular attention should be given by vegetable and fruit vendors and commission houses to the state laws, says Dr. Hodges.

MANUFACTURERS WANT SPECIAL BUILDING

HOME INDUSTRY EXHIBIT AT COTTON PALACE SUGGESTED AT LUNCHEON.

Active Advertising Campaign to Begin in Near Future Urged at Meeting.

A home industry building at the Cotton Palace and details of the Made-in-Waco advertising campaign for which $1,000 has been subscribed by local manufacturers were among the important matters discussed at the meeting of the Waco Manufacturers Association held in the Waco hotel at noon yesterday. A resolution urging that the Young Men's Business League inaugurate the advertising campaign at once was adopted, being introduced by T. P. Duncan. The Y. M. B. L. is in charge of the fund raised by subscriptions from the manufacturers. Mr. Duncan stated the opinion of manufacturers that immediate action was imperative in order not to lose any of the effect of the recent Made-in-Waco exposition.

The association will hold monthly luncheons and business meetings hereafter, a motion to this effect being made by C. J. Clanton and carried. President J. M. Rhoads was empowered to select the next place, the time being set as the second Tuesday in each month.

A collective display of Made-in-Waco goods was planned at the meeting. To arrange with the Cotton Palace directors for a suitable building, a committee composed of S. E. Carothers, C. J. Clanton and A. J. Clifton was appointed by President Rhoads. The idea presented was that instead of scattering the exhibits of Waco manufacturers through the buildings at the exposition, a collective exhibit be arranged to occupy one of the buildings, which will be named the "Made-in-Waco" building.

The Waco manufacturers will be represented at the convention of the Buy-it-in-Texas movement by two delegates, following favorable discussion of the movement at the meeting yesterday. The delegates will be elected at the next meeting, June 8. A resolution passed endorsing the movement was introduced by Frank J. Trau.

Plans for a classified list of Waco-made products to be printed in the city telephone directory after the consolidation of the two exchanges here was submitted by H. M. Baine and F. M. Longley. The plan met with the hearty approval of the manufacturers.

Resolutions were ordered drafted, thanking the press of the city and all persons who assisted to make the recent Made-in-Waco exposition a success. The resolutions committee is composed of J. S. Hill, R. S. Lazenby and T. P. Duncan.

Through the courtesy of R. S. Lazenby, proprietor of the Artesian Bottling Works, Dr. Pepper was served as a part of the luncheon. Fifteen members of the association were present.

In Waco Woolen Mill Case, Bank Gets the Verdict at Galveston

Galveston, Tex., May 28.—In the Fifty-sixth district court, Judge Robert G. Street, today, in the case of the First National bank of Galveston vs. W. W. Cameron et al., for debt, the bank was given the verdict with judgment against S. F. Kirksey Jr., W. J. Slayden, S. W. Slayden, W. W. Cameron and E. R. Bolton for $29,022.57, in favor of defendant, Tom Padgett, on special issues.

This is an echo of the defunct Woolen Mills at Waco, to which the First National bank loaned money and against the directors of which the bank brought suit for recovery on grounds of misrepresentation of assets.

Why Do French Women Always Look Young?

In France mothers and daughters look like sisters. How are the women there able to retain their youthful looks until long past middle age? Is it because they are much given to the use of mercurized wax? This wax possesses a remarkable absorbent property which quickly removes the fine particles of cuticle which are constantly dying and which are the cause of wrinkles. Most likely it will not require two weeks to make your complexion as clear, soft and beautiful as a young girl's. Just one ounce of mercurized wax (all American druggists have it) usually does the work. The wax is put on nights like cold cream and washed off mornings.

Another valuable secret with which the French are familiar is how to quickly remove wrinkles. One ounce of powdered sassafras dissolved in a half pint of water makes a marvelous skin-astringent lotion. The face should be bathed in this daily until even the deepest lines are affected.

Italians in Waco Do Not Expect to Go Back to Europe

Most of These Here Who Might Be Affected Are Naturalized Americans.

Word has been received by the Italian consuls to have all the citizens of Italy eligible for duty in the Italian army to register their names and addresses so that in case they were needed when the call for reserves was sounded in America they could be found. The consuls have forwarded to all Italian citizens these instructions and a number in Waco have received the instructions to file their addresses with their consuls in case they were eligible for active service.

So far the public has been told that the city would be subject to the call, though there may be a few. The more prominent Italians could not give any information as to the probable number of men in the city who were naturalized Americans and in that case would not be affected even though the call to report for duty should come.

No executions have occurred in Arizona under state auspices since statehood was granted.

SWAT-THY-FLY WEEK IS URGED BY MAYOR

Richards and Dunken stated that they would not vote to prohibit children from skating on the walks, and the matter was allowed to pass. Commissioner Richards stated that he would charge a motorcycle policeman with enforcing the ordinance against bicycles.

Trip-switching stands along the Cotton Belt tracks in the city were declared a menace to vehicles by Commissioner Richards yesterday. Mr. Richards stated that several accidents to automobiles had been caused lately by these switch stands, and suggested that the railroad be compelled to raise these switch stands several feet above the ground so that vehicle drivers might see them, or to sink them below the ground and cover them safely. Upon Mr. Richards' motion, Mayor Higgins was authorized to take the matter up with the railroad management.

Complaints that hauling of asphalt over the paved streets by contractors engaged in building roads in the county was causing damage to the streets was made by Commissioner Richards, who asked the city attorney if there was an ordinance prohibiting such practice. Mr. Maxwell stated that there was no ordinance specifically prohibiting the hauling of asphalt over the streets, as exists in the case of gravel, but that complaints could be filed against the contractor for damaging public property. The chief of police was instructed to arrest the contractor and file complaints against him for every day he persists in hauling over the paved streets.

Jury Fee Ordinance Passed. Action was ordered taken, upon motion of Commissioner Richards, to force property owners on North Tenth street to build sidewalks in compliance with the sidewalk ordinance covering that street passed some time ago. Commissioner Richards reported that some of the property owners on the street had already built their sections of sidewalks, and that it was unfair not to require others to build. The enforcement of the sidewalk ordinance was added to the duties of the fire marshal some time ago.

A proposal from the Texas No-Fuel company to install a garbage disposal plant which would care for all the refuse and rubbish gathered by the gutter carts of the city was referred to the mayor and public health commissioner. The present method of disposing of garbage by use of the city garbage furnace leaves about 80 percent of the garbage to be dumped.

The ordinance assessing witness and jury fees in the corporation court was passed through its successive readings yesterday and is now a law. Under this ordinance, fees will be added to fines in case of conviction. Previously witness fees had to be paid by the city even when convictions were obtained.

Several applications for licenses as cab drivers were held up yesterday, upon request of Commissioner Richards, who asked that the chief of police make special investigations as to the character of the applicants.

Richards referred to the incident Wednesday night when a cab driver was arrested charged with insulting a young woman passenger as reason for taking extra precautions in granting licenses. Mr. Richards reported that he had revoked the license of Oscar Grimes, the cab driver arrested, and asked the commission to confirm his action, which was done.

Would Move City Hospital. Commissioner Cockcroft was authorized to advertise for bids for moving the city hospital. Upon invitation of Commissioner Cockcroft, the mayor and commissioners inspected the hospital property last Monday morning, coming to the conclusion to move the building so as to make available the rock under the building, which is used for building streets. Blasting in the quarries near the hospital had nearly undermined it, and flying rock had broken nearly all the windows.

Ordinances fixing paving liens in favor of Ockander Bros. for paving Sanger Alley between Sixth and Eighth streets and paving South Eighth street were passed under suspended rules. Ockander Bros. requested the ordinance in order to collect some payments due them. Most of the property owners along these pavements have paid their assessments.

Secretary Davis called up the moving ordinance at the meeting yesterday afternoon, but it was allowed to pass over by the commissioners.

DANCE REVUE DRAWS BIG CROWD TO PARK

CELEBRATION FIFTH ANNIVERSARY IS BIG SUCCESS FROM EVERY STANDPOINT.

MISSISS HOFFMANN IN CHARGE

Music Furnished by Alessandro Band. Daintily Dressed Girls Present Pleasing Numbers.

Just as the summer moon, a huge, golden bowl, peeped from the eastern horizon while the last saffron tints cast by the descending sun were fading away into the deep blue of night, the strains of the Poppy dance floated out over Cameron park and a bevy of pretty little girls trooped out over the green sward for the last number of the dance revue, given last night in honor of the fifth anniversary of Waco's most celebrated beauty spot, under the direction of Misses Fay and Birdie Hoffmann. Through the dainty measures the girls tripped, the larger ones forming a semi-circle back of the little tots. As the dance ended, the performers ran back to the big tree from whence they had started and the ten thousand Wacoans present dispersed as Alessandro's band swung into the air of the "Star-Spangled Banner."

Long before sundown the people began swarming to the park. Street cars were loaded to full capacity, a ceaseless stream of autos and buses went out North Fifth and pedestrians in large number swelled the crowd. A big space on the velvety green lawn at the southern extremity of the park had been roped off for the performance and several policemen in their white dress uniforms were on hand to keep everybody back. The band was stationed on a little knoll to one side, a few evergreens forming a wall of foliage behind them, while those taking part in the dances were clustered around the one solitary tree which stands out in the edge of the plot.

While the people were gathering, the band rendered a number of selections. The musicians were at their best, the audience was an appreciative one and showed its approval by outbursts of applause. The sun was just sinking out of sight, leaving the heavens crimsoned with its farewell glow as the program was opened. Darting out from the midst of the dancers, all clad in spotless white, except for the string of red roses floating sash-like from their waists, Miss Adele Shumway bowed gracefully and glided off into the "Call to the Dance." To her right she held a red, as if a true woodland elf, and it did not take a strong imagination to hear the pipes of Pan himself and see his followers going through the graceful steps with the pretty little maiden. Daintily she went through the intricate, though seemingly simple steps, her dance proving an unequalled pleasure to the onlookers, as did all those which followed.

Fox Trot Given.

Then to show that there was much real beauty in the modern dances, four young ladies and four young men gave the fox trot. It was something unusual to see the performance on the green grass instead of the ballroom floor, but the dancing was exquisite and the number fitted in wonderfully with the remainder of the program. Those taking part were Misses Marie Louise Woodfolk, Margaret Yates, George Lazenby, Ruby Reynolds, Mary Barnett, Ruth Spratt, Katherine Dilworth, Mary Belle Chamberlain, Dorothy May Hart, Helen Mayfield, Goldie Lazarus, Elizabeth Miller, Tillie Lazarus, Harrie Christman Cox, Virginia Brown, Kate McCullough, Jane Hall, Rosalie Lazarus, Fay and Birdie Hoffmann.

Miss Margaret Yates rendered a beautiful and graceful solo dance, "Fireflies," that was one of the most charming on the entire program. Here and there she flitted, in perfect harmony with the music, several "regular" fireflies that have the park as their habitation flying about her and adding their gentle glow to the picturesqueness of the scene.

Of entirely different character was the Spanish dance, "La Gitana," by Miss Irma Powers. She swayed languorously to the lilting rhythm, her dance being vivacious, alluring and altogether beautiful. As an intermission number, Prof. Alessandro and his bandmen played the prologue to "Pagliacci," that masterpiece of Leoncavallo. At its conclusion, a beautiful basket of gladioli and cape Jesamines was presented to Prof. Alessandro and his band with the compliments of Mrs. Flora B. Cameron and the Cameron family, and other beautiful baskets of carnations, gladioli and cape Jesamines to each of the Misses Hoffmann, also with the compliments of the Camerons.

For the music to "The Zephyrs," danced next by Miss Mary Belle Chamberlain, the band played the first part of "Frolics of Cameron Park," composed by Prof. Alessandro, the entire selection being played for the Poppy dance. Little Miss Chamberlain is only 10 years of age, yet she did some extremely graceful toe dancing and floated through the measures as if she were, indeed the personification of the gentle breezes she represented.

Birthday Cake Brought In.

"Narcissus" was rendered by Misses Tillie Lazarus, Helen Mayfield, Virginia Brown and Caroline Pryor. The full spirit of the music seemed to possess them and they bowed and balanced and swung to and fro, charmingly impersonating the beautiful flower as it nods to the flowing stream.

Two big, burly negro waiters carried in Cameron Park's birthday cake. It was an immense white, frosted affair with five pink candles adorning it, one for each year of the park's existence as a city pleasure ground. The cake was opened and little Miss Goldie Lazarus, 5 years old, stepped out and did a very graceful little dance, the Narcissus maidens following her as she led the way back to the sheltering tree.

Then came the Poppy dance and the end of the anniversary celebration. To the Misses Hoffmann many compliments were paid, the program being beautiful and unique in every particular. Seldom, if ever, has Cameron park seen a larger and a happier crowd, the perfect weather apparently being ordered specially for the occasion. While Miss Birdie Hoffmann was present to witness the triumph, she did not take part in the closing number on account of a slight indisposition, the dancers being: The Soloists, Margaret Yates, Mary Belle Chamberlain, Harrie Christman Cox, Poppies, Eleanor Cameron, Caroline Pryor, Rosa Lee Jameson, Flora Phillips, Frances Orand, Katherine Risher, Almeida McGregor, Mildred Davis,
